ZIA is an independent, non-profit industry association that represents and supports the interests of the zircon, zirconia and zirconium value chains. To find out more about membership email enquiries@zircon-association.org

Membership offers my company the opportunity to influence technical development activities that raise awareness of zircon and its derivatives, increasing demand for our products

The comprehensive best practice guidance has supported us in improving our processes and ensuring we are complaint with required regulations

ZIA has assisted us with information and presentations to potential investors

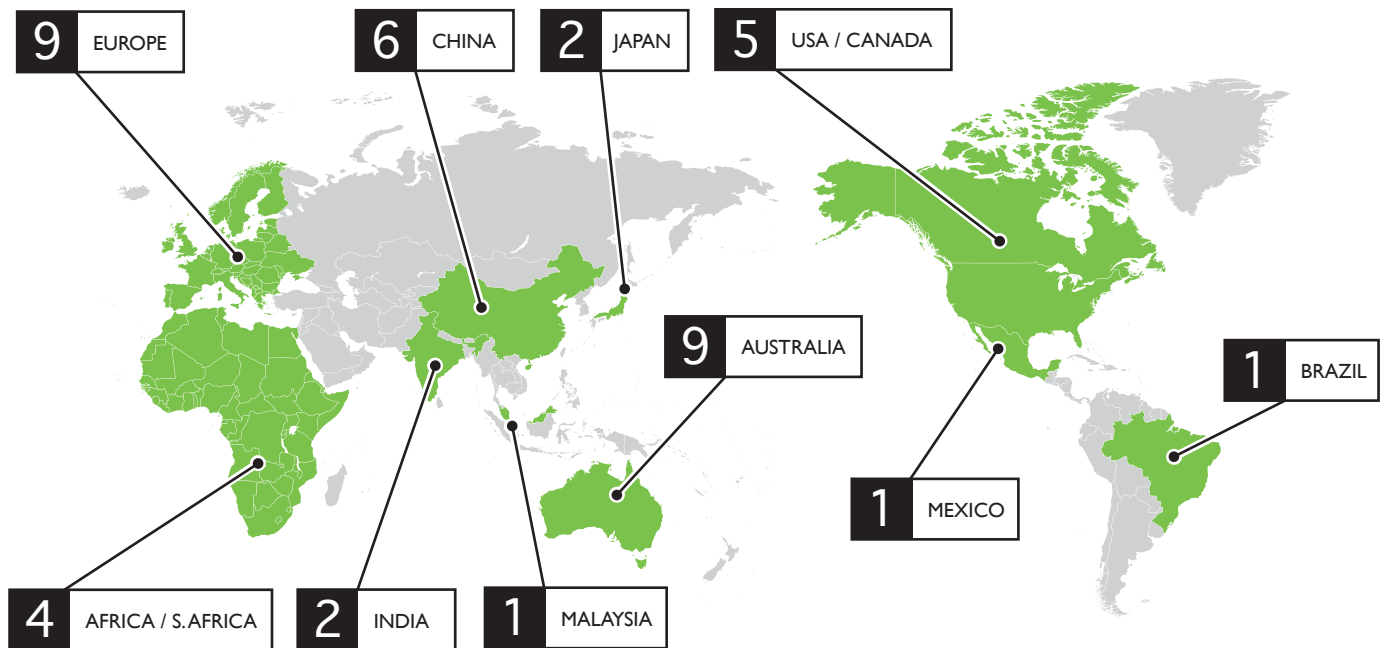

The ZIA annual conference is world class - the only one I need to attend nowadays

Large or small, as a ZIA member you are part of the global zircon community
